Galen's Way at the Traditional Roots Conference

Galen's Way attended the inaugural Traditional Roots Herbal Conference (<http://traditionalroots.org/traditional-roots-herbal-conference/>) at National College of Natural Medicine (NCNM) (<http://www.ncnm.edu/>) in Portland, Oregon May 16th – 18th. It was a fabulous event most worthy of attending again next year. A huge thank you to the wonderful people at NCNM for bringing naturopathic doctors and herbalists together to share and enjoy our mutual herbal roots!

"The mission of NCNM's Traditional Roots Institute's (<http://traditionalroots.org/>) is to reinvigorate the herbal roots of medicine. It was such an honor to have clinical herbalists, nurses, doctors and acupuncturists come away from the conference with new skills and renewed passion for healing with plants. We are so grateful to Galen's Way, our incredible speakers and sponsors for their support of our inaugural effort. We look forward to seeing everyone again at the conference next year — May 15-17, 2015!"

-Orna Izakson ND, RH (AHG) & Traditional Roots Institute Lead Physician

The conference was a wonderful blend of tradition and science covering a range of topics from herbal energetics, material medica, medicine making, clinical case review and much more. Various ND's and herbalists spoke at the conference including Jim McDonald, Eric Yarnell, Jillian Stansbury, Paul Bergner and many more.

The Portland Rose Festival (<http://www.rosefestival.org/event-calendar>) coincided with this conference and roses were on everyone's mind. So much in fact that our two best sellers at the conference were our scrumptious rose cream (<http://www.galenswaystore.com/collections/all-products/products/riot-of-roses-rose-cream>) and rose glycerite. In honor of these spectacular blossoms we're offering you a complimentary 4 ounce rose glycerite with any purchase of $200 or more!

Here are our Galen's Way herbalists' two favorite uses of rose glycerite:

In the apothecary...

It is used as neutral (not heating or cooling) flavoring and heart soothing synergist in any formula. Rose glycerite pairs particularly well with heart centered formulas including hawthorn and albizzia and reishi and schisandra.

In the kitchen...

The Sparkling Rose: Add a splash of rose glycerite with sparkling water, lime juice and mint leaves. Sit back, relax and smile.
