

Scene and Heard: National College of Natural Medicine

+ View full size

(left to right) Jay Zidell, CEO of Zidell Marine Corp. and ZRZ Realty; poet, author and NPR commentator Andrei Codrescu; and Diane Zidell

Photo courtesy NCNM

The National College of Natural Medicine's "Min Zidell Garden Gala" drew approximately 200 guests to the college campus on June 26. Susan Hunter, vice president of advancement, was chairwoman for the event, which honored The Portland Children's Museum, Tree for All Project, Grow Portland and Ingenuity Innovations. Assistant professor Marcus Miller, MD, ND; and president David J. Schleich co-hosted the gala, which was the final fundraising event of the year. Funds raised in 2014 totaled $275,000. NCNM is the oldest accredited naturopathic medical school in North America. A nonprofit medical school, it offers graduate medical degree programs in naturopathic medicine, classical Chinese Medicine, natural medicine research, nutrition and global health.